

Sharon G. Mijares, Ph.D. is a Psychologist, Adjunct Faculty at National University, Core Faculty at the California Institute for Human Science and Adjunct Faculty at Brandman University. She is also a member of the Inayati schools of Sufism, and the Sufi Women's Organization. She is ordained as a minister of universal worship, honoring all religious and spiritual teachings, and is a certified teacher of the Dances of Universal Peace. She is the author/editor of six books focused on psychological and spiritual development. A Force Such As the World Has Never Known: Women Creating Change (edited) brings women together from many nations and many areas of work. Each of her books is focused on bettering our relationship with life, and with one another. Sharon has presented her teachings in Costa Rica, Ecuador, Egypt, India, Mexico, Scotland, Uganda, United States and Venezuela. On a personal level she is a mother, grandmother and great-grandmother and currently lives in Silver City, NM. For more info see www.psychospiritual.org